

Say Hello to Mrs Fagan!

Hello, my name is Mrs Fagan. I am the school English lead, Early Years lead and Nursery teacher, which means that I get to see all the children's fabulous school 'firsts'! How lucky I am to be part of such exciting experiences for our youngest children - I look forward to enjoy every single school day!

My favourite book is...

I love to read so much that I have books stacked up all around my house. I enjoy curling up with a book and getting lost in the story - it is such fun to imagine yourself in the book you are reading and think about the character you might like to be! I don't have a favourite author because I love to reread my favourite books, some that I have had for a long, long time are rather tatty now!

My favourite children's book is 'The Smartest Giant in Town' by Julia Donaldson. I love the kindness that George the Giant shows and all the rhymes in the story. I love that George has a song, and I love remembering reading it day after day to my girls when they were younger. Together, we perfected the tune for George's song, and I still sing it this way whenever I read this book.

My favourite hobby is...

I love to read (as you know!), but I also love to go for long rambling walks on the beach with husband, two daughters, and our crazy little fluff ball of a dog, Freddie. I love the sound of the waves, and Freddie and my girls love to splash in them! Mr Fagan prefers to stay dry, but usually ends up soggy like the rest of us!

My favourite thing about working at SSIN is...

My favourite thing about working here is all the wonderful people it has brought into my life! All the children and families at South Stanley are so brilliant, it means that I don't come to work, I get to come and enjoy myself every day, helping our children to learn and to be the best they can possible be. Who could want more than that!
